

Broad new cycle lanes in the centre of Cherbourg: the most visible of Cherbourg's efforts to act on climate change. When will we have them in Bremerhaven, too?

Cherbourg in white

White sailing boats in the marina (or yacht harbour)

The logo of the umbrella manufactory Le Parapluie de Cherbourg. Thanks to a 1960s movie, umbrellas have become a trademark of tourism in Cherbourg.

Road signs in front of the tourist office

La Marianne
The symbol of the French Republic and her values liberté, égalité, fraternité. This bust can be found in the magnificent town hall of Cherbourg.

Alvin – a submersible in the museum La Cité de la Mer. Alvin was designed for deep ocean research and named after the US oceanographer Allyn C. Vine (1914–1994).

The boat that took us on a tour around the outer harbour of Cherbourg – La Grande Rade, famous for its massive artificial breakwaters.
